STILL TAKE OUT DEAD

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—President Wilson announced to the world today that the governing motive of the United States in its relations with the countries of this hemisphere would be "morality and not expediency."

"I want to take this occasion to say," he declared, "that the United States will not again seek to secure an additional foot of territory by conquest."

The president in a speech before the southern commercial congress delivered a veiled attack on what he termed "the material interests" that had influenced the foreign policy of some governments in their relations with the nations of Latin America. Though Mr. Wilson did not mention Mexico as the afflicted country he devoted his entire speech to a description of the degrading influences which foreign concessionaires had had upon the internal affairs of some of the Latin American countries.

Mexico in Mind.

With the Mexican situation uppermost in the president's mind at this time his address was interpreted as an arraignment of those financial influences which it had been charged have secured in some cases recognition for the Huerta government. The president declared that it would be the duty of the United States to assist the nations of this hemisphere in an emancipation from the material interests of other nations so they might enjoy constitutional liberty untrammelled.

The president spoke extemporaneously.

"I came," he said, "not to speak for the south, because the south has the gift of speaking for herself. I came here because I would speak of our present and progressive relations with our neighbors to the south."

Future to Be Different.

"The future is going to be very different for this hemisphere from the past. Those states lying to the south which have always been our neighbors will be drawn closer to each other by common ties of understanding. Injuncts do not tie nations together; it sometimes separates them. But sympathy and understanding do bind them together. You hear of concessions to foreign capital in Latin America but you don't hear of concessions to foreign capital in the United States. They are not granted concessions. They are invited to make investments. It is an invitation not a privilege and states that are obliged to grant concessions are in the condition that foreign interests are apt to dominate their domestic affairs."

"Such a condition of affairs is apt to become intolerable. And it is emancipation from this inextricable subordination which we deem it our duty to assist in."

"Their self respect, their achievements in spite of these difficulties deserve nothing but the admiration and applause of the world. I rejoice in nothing so much as that they will be emancipated and we ought to be the first in taking part in assisting in that emancipation."

The president digressed to point out that the department of state recently had "tried to serve in this wise," but mentioned no specific instances.

The Future Outlook.

"In the future," he continued, "the nations to the south of us will draw"

Dawson, N. M., Oct. 27.—Rescuers were still working today to remove bodies of the dead in mine No. 2, of the Stag Canon Fuel company.

Practically every accessible body had been removed this morning, bringing the total number of recovered bodies up to 182.

Of the seven dead which had been brought from the mine since midnight, not one was identified. The task of identification is momentarily growing more difficult, and it is believed that of the 101 bodies remaining in the mine today, few will ever be identified.

By noon today 132 of the victims of the Stag Canon mine, No. 2, disaster had been buried. The major portion of the bodies now being recovered are in such condition that they cannot be shipped or laid out in the morgue for public funeral service as was the case with the first two scores. Health officers are using vigilance to see that the sanitation of the town is not impaired. Rescue men who bring the bodies from the mine are subjected to disinfectants after each trip. Bides are taken to the cemeteries directly from the temporary morgue at the mine, and if identification is possible members of the dead miners' families are not permitted to view them. Danger from fire passed last night when air currents were directed into every room of the workings and no smolders were found. Government mine experts will remain in Dawson for two or three weeks in an effort to determine positively the cause and the nature of the disaster.

The Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the Stag Canon Fuel company at once will begin their efforts to arrange the affairs of the dead miners' families.

DENIES SHE GAVE ADMIRAL POISON

Mrs. Eaton Describes How She Knew Husband Was Using Opium.

IS CALM UNDER FIRE

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton resumed the stand for cross examination today in her trial for the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Eaton. As the principal witness in her own defense Mrs. Eaton was on the stand for six hours last Saturday and under the guidance of her attorney, William Morse, told a story of tender care for her husband and consistent devotion to him.

She denied that she had given him poison and testified that his frequent dabbling with subtle drugs and persistent liquor drinking had taxed her and made her fear for her life. Today District Attorney Baker led her over this story, dissecting it in an effort to find some flaw which would strengthen the government's contention that she gave the admiral a beverage containing a deadly poison.

Asked how she knew her husband was using drugs, Mrs. Eaton said:

"I had luncheon one day in Chicago and I was looking out of the window when I saw a peculiar white smoke, like steam from a locomotive. I said to myself, 'goodness can it be possible that Joe is in Chicago?' Then I found that the smoke came from the pipe of a Chinaman who was smoking opium. I knew by that that the admiral smoked opium."

NON-PARTISAN TRIUMPH IS ASSURED; LET THE VICTORY BE ALSO A GREAT LESSON

(By the Non-Partisan City Central Committee.)

To the Voters of the City of Fort Wayne:

This committee believes victory of the Non-Partisan cause is assured. It believes the battle to rescue our home government from the grasp of spoilsmen is won. It believes the voters of Fort Wayne now have only to press forward to the polls to possess themselves of the triumph of their patriotic and righteous contest. But while victory is assured and the eve of triumph is here, let it be remembered that there is more to achieve than triumph on the field. This is no strife for office that all of us have so valiantly been waging. It is a mighty contest for a noble principle. Our success must be signal, overwhelming. There must be allowed to remain no vestige of doubt that the people of this good city have now and forever repudiated spoils government. There must be no shred of evidence that the people of this city have any more tolerance of spoilsmen in a party than they have for moral delinquency, connivance at lawlessness and official perjury embodied in a candidate. We must not only defeat, but we must rout—we must not only rout, but we must thoroughly and everlastingly repudiate the spoilers, their candidate and their methods.

Citizens of decency and spirit all over this great city have for the time put aside their party connections and prejudices to rally under the banners of good government, moral supremacy and civic duty. They have carried this Non-Partisan movement forward to what we firmly believe is the certainty of triumph. Let us in the few days remaining take all honorable measures to make the issue of next week's balloting not merely a victory, but an unforgettable lesson to spoilsmen and lawbreakers who would prostitute our home government and again put the brand of shame on our city.

The days from now until election should be devoted by every supporter of the Non-Partisan movement, by every good and true friend of the city's highest welfare to a best endeavor to add something to the magnitude and glory of the triumph that awaits this march of patriotic citizenship to the polls.

THAW IS BACK IN LIMELIGHT

Seeks a New Continuance of the Extradition Proceedings.

NEW YORK OPPOSES IT

Concord, N. H., Oct. 27.—Harry K. Thaw, his counsel and the attorneys representing the state of New York went to Rochester today to attend a hearing before Gov. Feltner at his home in that city on the question of a further continuance in the Thaw extradition proceedings.

Thaw seeks a delay of two weeks in which to meet the indictment returned in New York county last week. The New York lawyers are opposed to the continuance. The hearing was held at the governor's home because indisposition of the executive prevented his coming to the state capital here.

Before leaving for Rochester, Thaw issued a statement saying that he had directed his New York lawyers to withdraw their application for him to be admitted to bail in New York city. He had taken this action, he said, because the New York county indictment against him is null and void because of his being "legally insane" in New York.

RETURNS TO

May Be Fortnight Before Mexican Election Figures Are Out.

VOTE VERY LIGHT;
CHOICE DOUBTFUL

Washington Sees in Outcome Justification for Its Position.

Mexico City, Oct. 27.—The returns of yesterday's election may possibly be known within a week but it is more likely that a fortnight will elapse before the result is placed before the public. Not even a good guess as to who was at the top of the poll can be made at present.

Returns, even from nearby states, are fragmentary. In the federal capital itself the result may be known within a day or two. Telegrams received today by the department of the interior showed that the elections at Guadalajara and Toluca passed off in an orderly manner.

NO CHOICE PROBABLE.

Washington Sees Justification in Meagre Returns.

Washington, Oct. 27.—On the face of the meagre returns from the Mexican elections and apparent indications that a president had not been chosen, officials in Washington today based justification for the policy of this government in declining in advance to recognize the elections as legal and fair. Although nothing official had come to the authorities here, the prevailing opinion was that Huerta would retain his authority and that a new congress would proclaim the election null and void.

Definite announcement from the Huerta government of the election outcome is not looked for here for several days. A few dispatches were received by Secretary Bryan from Mexico City. They contained no detailed information as to the vote cast for president but asserted that the vote everywhere throughout the republic had been light. The reports were communicated to President Wilson at Mobile.

AUTO ACCIDENT FATAL.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 27.—Dr. Claude E. Burns, died today at Bement as a result of an automobile accident late last night. Blinded by the rain, Burns drove into a ditch and his head was crushed by the steering wheel when the automobile turned over.

BURN FODDER TO HELP THE CAUSE

New Haven Folks to Aid in Celebration of Highway Dedication

NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT

Folks down about New Haven are preparing to aid in the dedication of the Lincoln National highway Friday night in unique fashion and the people of that particular district say they will outshine any other in the county and to do this they will offer up their corn fodder as a sacrifice to the cause.

A committee of the progressive citizens has taken up the matter in dead earnest and by obtaining corn fodder here and there enough has been obtained to insure that the whole line of march will be one brilliant pathway for several miles east and west of the enterprising town.

No report has been made to the Fort Wayne committee of arrangements, but the project has advanced far enough to insure its success and there will be some illumination along the line unless all plans go awry. The dedication is set for Halloween night and Carl Fisher, of Indianapolis, is expected to be in Fort Wayne tomorrow to consult with William M. Griffin, local counselor and to see just what Allen county will do.

Citizens are aroused to the importance of the highway and to the fact that it is up to them to make the best showing along the line and the zest with which all have entered into the scheme insures that there will be something worth seeing.

Division Heads Named.

President William M. Griffin, of the Commercial club, this morning appointed L. C. Blase as chairman of the western division of the celebration, and J. W. Bell chairman of the eastern division. It was also announced that the western division parade will start two miles west of Chubbuck and move toward Fort Wayne. All automobile owners in the city are urged to participate in this celebration, and are asked to get into communication immediately with Secretary Charles L. Biederwolf, of the Commercial club.

To Tag the City.

W. B. Merrill, of the Fort Wayne Bill Posting company, has offered to place two hundred posters about the city and along the route of the highway. These posters are seven by eight feet in dimension and the material, as well as the work of posting them, has been given free of all cost by Mr. Merrill.

One thousand small Lincoln Memorial highway tags will also be donated by Mr. Merrill. These will be passed out along the street and placed in street cars and hotels.

"DEATH BLOCK" IS AGAIN THE SCENE

Milwaukee Fire in Ill-Fated Quarter Costs Lives of Seven.

LOSS IS HALF MILLION

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 27.—The toll of death from last night's fire, which destroyed the store of the Goodfear Rubber company and adjoining buildings in East Water street and wrought other damage to property within the block, still remains at seven today. The monetary loss is estimated at half a million dollars. A revised list of the known dead is as follows:

JOHN J. DOYLE, captain of engine No. 4.

JOHN FENSKE, pipeman engine No. 4.

GEORGE J. CHASEN.

TIMOTHY DWYER, pipeman engine No. 4.

MAX FLASCHKE, driver.

WILLIAM L. GRAF, engine No. 4.

WALTER FRIETAG, aged 23.

Three are in a critical condition. Seventeen others were injured but it is not expected serious results will follow.

The block in which the fire broke out is known as Milwaukee's "death block," there having been no fewer than eighty-two lives snuffed out within its boundaries in the city's history. The first loss of life was in 1883 when on Jan. 10 seventy-one persons were burned to death in the old Newhall house. Twenty years later Fire Chief James Foley and three of his men met death from acid fumes in a fire in a building next door to the Goodyear company's store.

NEW THEATRE DEAL IS MADE

Keith Circuit Man Said to Have Gone East to Complete It.

OPTION SECURED ON THE PROPERTY

F. E. Stouder and B. H.
Barnett Interested in New Playhouse.

Fort Wayne is to have a new theater and it will be ready to open by Labor day of next year.

This information was given out today by B. H. Barnett, who left at noon for Chicago with Frank E. Stouder and they will spend four or five days looking over the theater buildings there.

In the meantime Edward Clifford, the Keith circuit representative, who has been in Fort Wayne for three months, is said to have gone east for the purpose of having plans drawn for the building and the work will be done by an architect who is engaged especially in theatrical work and who will be instructed to prepare for Fort Wayne a structure thoroughly up to the minute and equipped with all of the things that go to make the best theaters in the big cities.

A location has been secured and the option is all ready for signature and the purchase of the property will be the first step. The site will not be made public until the property has been secured and, except that the location has a frontage of eighty feet and a depth of 150 feet no information is available on this point.

Mr. Clifford announced on his arrival in Fort Wayne that he was here to secure a building lot for a Keith theater and he has been constantly on the job since that time and the fact that he has gone back east gives every assurance that his mission is completed.

Mr. Stouder, who has been at the head of the Temple theater for a number of years, and Mr. Barnett, who has been connected with him in the ownership of the Lyric moving picture house, will be largely interested in the new enterprise.

WOULD LAND HIM IN BANKRUPTCY

To Carry Out All Milk Requirements of Health Officials.

SAYS PROF. HARDING

Chicago, Oct. 27.—That the farmer who attempts to carry out all requirements advocated by health officials will land him in bankruptcy courts was the statement made here today at the opening session of the convention of the International Milk Dealers association by Prof. H. A. Harding, of the University of Illinois.

Milk dealers from all over the country are present at the convention and will listen to addresses by experts on the subject of milk. Professor Harding based his pessimism on the rise in the cost of labor and feed without corresponding advances in the price of milk at wholesale.

Prof. Robert S. Breed, of the New York agricultural experiment station, Geneva, N. Y., discussed the "significance of body cells in milk."

SHOT AS SHE OPENS DOOR.

Mrs. John Kuba Victim of Five Bullets at Butler, Pa.

Butler, Pa., Oct. 27.—Mrs. John Kuba was shot five times when she opened her bedroom door early today to investigate a noise she heard in the hall. The state police are searching for John McKinston, who is alleged to have quarreled with her husband last night. Mrs. Kuba is not expected to recover.

WOMAN FREED; MAN GUILTY.

Jury Returns Verdict in Gottschalk Case at Bloomington, Ill.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 27.—The jury in the trial of John Burton and Mrs. George Gottschalk charged with the murder of the woman's husband today brought in a verdict acquitting Mrs. Gottschalk an giving Burton four years for manslaughter.

MISS EDNA LOSES
HER $600 PLUMES

Cruel Customs Inspector Plucks Big Seizure
of Aigrettes.

GIRL MUCH SHOCKED

New York, Oct. 27.—The largest single seizure the customs inspectors have made since the new regulations prohibiting the importation of aigrettes went into effect is on record at the customs house today, that of plumes valued at $800 taken from Miss Edna McLaughlin, daughter of a former police inspector here, who arrived yesterday from Europe.

The young woman had frankly declared the fine feathers as part of her apparel, which was valued in all at $8,000, and was shocked when she learned that regardless of her declaration the inspectors must seize the aigrettes. She protested that she had bought the plumes in this country, but learned to her dismay that only twenty-four hours before arrival an order had been issued for the seizure of all such feathers whether originally purchased in this country or abroad.

Finished with explanations the inspector finally plucked the costly plumes from the hat they were adorning and sent them to the appraiser's stores. They will undoubtedly, in view of unequivocal language of the law, be consigned to the furnace in the public basement of the public stores.

The False Alarm

AND RIGHT AFTER THAT, Herb Reed, chief clerk at the Nickel Plate roundhouse, bought an alarm clock. It happened last winter. Mr. Reed lives at 1753 West Main street. One evening, after reading the evening papers, he found himself sleepy and weary (and it wasn't a campaign year, either) to such an extent that he retired an hour or two before his regular time. For a long time, Mr. Reed had made it a practice to get up in the morning when awakened by the first street car on the West Main street line. Following his usual custom, he arose, made his toilet, and descended to the basement where he fixed the furnace for the day. He then made the usual arrangements for breakfast—starting the kitchen fire, putting on the tea kettle and performing a part of the work of arranging the breakfast table—before calling Mr. Reed.

The wife soon appeared and was in the midst of the preparations for breakfast, when she happened to glance at the clock. It lacked fifteen minutes of being midnight. Mr. Reed had been awakened by the 11:30 car—the last one of the night, not the first one of the morning. Directly afterward, the furnace was refired for the night, the kitchen fire was shut off, night clothes were again

NON-PARTISANS HAVE BUSY WEEK

Renewed Activity Will Be Evidenced in Closing Campaign.

BIG RALLY PLANNED

The political stage is set in Fort Wayne for the final acts in one of the most demonstrative municipal campaigns in the history of the city, and during this week campaign workers will renew their activity in directing the work of stumping every portion of the city in the closing battle for ballots.

The non-partisans have completed a program for the week that will get the non-partisan movement in touch with every voter in the city, and plans are being made to leave nothing undone, in putting before the citizens, the fact that the city needs a non-partisan administration, one that will give efficiency, and by the end of this week everybody in Fort Wayne will be presented with facts and figures to show that politics should be eliminated.

The first speaking of the week took place this noon, when three big shop meetings were held. Howard L. Townsend addressed the employees of the Wayne Knitting mills, and at the same hour William C. Geake addressed the men who work at the Eckart Packing plant. The third simultaneous gathering was a joint meeting of the employees of the Indiana Road Machine works, the Horton Manufacturing company and the Nickel Plate round house. Albert E. Thomas addressed the latter meeting.

Other Meetings.

Night meetings announced today by the non-partisan committee are as follows:

Tonight—Ninth ward at Ideal Auto works, corner of High and Clark streets; speakers, Charles H. Buck, non-partisan candidate for mayor; Perry A. Randall, B. Paul Mossman, H. L. Townsend, Frank Kintz, candidate for councilman from the Ninth ward, and others.

Rally Saturday Night.

While all plans have not been completed at this time, preliminary arrangements are being made for a big non-partisan rally to be held Saturday night at the assembly room of the court house. This will be one of the most important non-partisan meetings of the week, and it will be a campaign rally in every sense of the term.

Calls Ticket a Farce.

E. Colmey, one of the republican precinct committeemen has resigned and his resignation from the ranks of the G. O. P. is submitted as follows:

"Mr. Benjamin W. Skelton, City: Dear Sir: I herewith hand you my resignation as precinct committeeman of the Fifteenth precinct, Sixth ward, the same to become effective at once. The republican ticket as now constituted is a farce and is not representative of the republicans in the city. In my opinion it was placed in the field as a political scheme to aid the democratic candidates. I feel it my patriotic duty to support the non-partisan citizen's ticket.

"Yours,

"H. COLMEY.

MORALITY AS SOLE MOTIVE

closer and closer to us because of those circumstances of which I am speaking. We must prove ourselves their friends and champions on terms of equality and honor. We can't be fast friends on any other terms than those of equality. And we must show ourselves friends by comprehending their interests whether they square with our interests or not. It is a very perilous thing to determine a foreign policy in terms of material interests. It is indeed a degrading thing. "The development of constitutional liberty and world human rights, the maintenance of national integrity against material interests—that is our crowd. I want to take this occasion to say to you that the United States will not again seek to secure one additional foot of territory by conquest. It will devote herself to showing an honest and fruitful use of the territory she has and she must regard it as one of the duties of friendship to see that from no quarter are material interests made superior to human liberty and national dignity.

"I say this merely to fix what our real relationship should be. It is a relationship of a family of mankind devoted to the relations from which human liberty springs. We have seen material interests threaten constitutional liberty in America so we know how to sympathize. I would rather belong to a poor nation that is free than a rich nation which has ceased to love freedom. Morality and not expediency is the thing that must guide us and we must never compromise integrity."

The president's speech was constantly interrupted by applause. He traveled through crowded streets bowing and nodding to cheering throngs.

Arrival in Mobile.

President Wilson arrived in Mobile early today to make two speeches to members of the southern commercial congress. Leaving his sleeping car at 7 o'clock the president breakfasted an hour later with representatives of the commercial club. At 10 o'clock he was to make his personal address, view a parade, speak briefly from the reviewing stand and at 12:40 leave on his special train for Washington.

VALUABLE HORSE KILLED.

Lung Was Pierced by Shaft of Another Buggy in Race.

A valuable horse belonging to H. A. Philley was instantly killed about 7:30 o'clock Saturday night at the corner of McKinzie avenue and the Piqua road, when its left lung was pierced by the shaft of a buggy in which Adam Kummerant, a blacksmith, of Lafayette street, was riding.

Kummerant and Frank Horniston were speeding their horses on the Piqua road. Mr. Philley's daughters were in his buggy and when they saw the two horses racing toward them they were unable to get out of the road with their horse and vehicle. The shaft of Kummerant's buggy pierced the left side of the Philley horse just back of the foreleg and an examination showed that a lung had been punctured.

PAYS FINE FOR HIS VENGEANCE

Burton McKinley Mulcted for Beating Up His Wife's Friend.

SURETY CASE IS FILED

Burton McKinley, of the McKinley Trucking company, 1607 Marion street, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Graebner today for assault and battery on Lyman Fry and later was defendant in surety of the peace proceedings instituted in the same court by Fry.

Yesterday McKinley intercepted a letter from Fry to Mrs. McKinley and he started out to find friend wife's friend. Fry got word that retribution was on his trail and coming fast and he boarded a Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana car to flee the wrath to come. McKinley learned of this and taking a fast automobile overhauled the electric car at Huntstown. He yanked Fry from the car and gave him an effectual thrashing in the streets, much to the excitement of the people of the village. The two men were arrested by Special Deputy Sheriff Robert Hillebrand, of Huntstown and brought to Fort Wayne. Both were charged with assault and battery and released on bond for appearance today. There was no case against Fry, who had taken all the assault and received all the battery. After McKinley had pleaded guilty and paid his fine Fry started the surety proceedings. Fry had been an employee of McKinley's.

Sunday Hunters Fined.

On pleas of guilty Chester Faulkner, William Parker, Albert Blume, Gottlieb Geunth and Ralph Yemey were fined $1 and costs, amounting to $10.50 in each case, by Justice Graebner today for hunting on Sunday. "CASCARETS" FINE FOR THE BOWELS

No headache, bad taste, sour stomach or coated tongue by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Are you keeping your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important. Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, indigestible and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. No odds how sick, headachy, bilious and constipated you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a gentle cleansing, too.—Adv.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

METHODISTS CELEBRATE.

Bluffton People of That Denomination Have Interesting Services.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 27.—Yesterday was a notable day for the people of the Methodist Episcopal denomination in Bluffton. It was the seventy-fifth anniversary of Methodism in this city and under the auspices of the First M. E. church here the event was appropriately observed. Bishop Joseph F. Berry, of Philadelphia, delivered sermons at both morning and evening services in the church. Most of the other protestant denominations joined the First M. E. church for the evening services. As a preparation for the anniversary services of Methodism's foundation here, sermons were preached on four successive nights during the past week by four men who at different times have been pastors of the local church. They are Rev. W. W. Martin, of Muncie; Rev. Somerville Light, superintendent of the Goshen district; Rev. C. U. Wade, of Greencastle; field secretary of DePauw university; and Rev. L. A. Beck, of Kokomo. The celebration was in large part due to Rev. W. T. Arnold, the present pastor of the congregation.

The first sermon preached in Bluffton was delivered about the middle of November, 1838, under the spreading boughs of an oak tree, on the banks of the Wabash river, at a point now on North Johnson street. Rev. George W. Bowers, a young minister of 25, sent into the Indiana wilderness by his bishop to preach, delivered the sermon, and the small body of Christians who listened to him banded themselves into a society that grew into the First M. E. church of Bluffton. In 1843 the small congregation was meeting at the home of William McBride, a Bluffton pioneer, and next services were held in Bluffton's first court house, a log cabin that stood on the present site of the G. E. Stover grocery. In 1847 a church was built on the present site of the First Baptist church of Bluffton. It served the Methodists until 1872, when the main part of the present brick church was built, corner of Washington and Williams streets, was erected.

The oldest living member of the church, in point of length of membership, is Mrs. Martha Waring. She was admitted to the church fifty-two years ago. Her father, John Studabaker, deceased, was one of the founders of the church.

WANTS $4,000 DAMAGES.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 27.—Harley Weagley has filed a suit, claiming $4,000 damages from John Rader. The plaintiff in his petition alleges that on the 28th day of last August he and two others were driving to Ohio City over the Rockford road and that when they reached a point one mile north of Ohio City, the defendant approached them from the south in his automobile, traveling at a high rate of speed, and struck the buggy, throwing the occupants out and damaging the survey. The plaintiff states that as a result of the collision and the fall from the buggy, he broke the radius bone of the left forearm, through the ball of the wrist, and dislocated the ulna bone of his left forearm at the wrist joint.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 27.—Death came suddenly to Mrs. Wayne Boggs, aged 62, who unexpectedly passed away at her home four miles south of this city. She had been a sufferer from Bright's disease, but her friends did not regard her state as dangerous. Following a paroxysm of coughing she became unconscious and so remained until death intervened. Her husband and three children survive.

SHE LIKES WARSAW.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Mamie K. Waterman, sister of Charles Ker, a Warsaw merchant, likes this city so much that she has decided to make her home here and is erecting a $5,000 brick residence on East Center street.

How To Heal a Stubborn Abscess

A Home Method Sure to Restore Flesh to Natural Health.

Here are some very valuable facts for all who have any blood trouble with external sores. Do not cover any sore so as to interfere with perspiration and the formation of protective scabs. Keep it clean and bandaged. If it is a stubborn case, flush your blood with S. S. S. This famous blood purifier works wonders. And you can easily give your blood a good, thorough cleansing by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to scientific medicine than ever before, and S. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line. Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. If your abscess is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the medical department, The S. S. S. Co., 214 Swift Laboratory, Buffalo, N. Y.

RUNAWAY GIRL IS FOUND.

Lizzie Hufford, of Van Wert, Missing a Week, Is Located.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 27.—Elizabeth Hufford, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hufford, of George street, who disappeared from the city Friday, Oct. 17, was finally located at Fostoria, where she was arrested and held to await the arrival of Humane Officer Kirk of this city, who went to Fostoria and has just returned home with the girl. It is more than likely that the girl will be placed under the care of the humane officer, if she is not sent to some institution of correction.

When questioned as to her motives for running away she simply said that she just took a notion to visit a friend in Fostoria, with whom she became acquainted some time ago on the occasion of a visit in this city, and denied any misconduct or that any one induced her to leave home.

Should Burnett be acquitted of the charge in Wabash he will be brought here immediately to answer to a forgery charge. Should he be convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary the charges here will be withheld until his release from prison.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN FORT WAYNE.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Heb 11:30-40.

30 By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of Gideon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthah; of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets:

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment:

37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having provided some better things for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

The "Corporations" Cry

Nothing short of utter desperation can be offered as an explanation of the persistency with which Mr. Hoesy and his champions continue to raise the cry of "corporations vs. the people" in the effort to stampede voters from the support of Mr. Buck and the non-partisan ticket in these closing days of the city campaign. The trick is an old one. It has been overworked in former campaigns, and it is a fallacy so gauzy that it does not seem possible that any voter can be deceived by it. Nothing is easier than to kick up a cloud of dust by the cry of "corporations" in the hope that the public may be blinded to the impending menace of a continuance of the rule of narrow partisanship, the triumph of the party machine and the return to Mr. Hoesy's amazing idea of "law enforcement" should he chance to win at the polls on Tuesday of next week.

Let us analyze the situation a bit and see if there is any warrant for the charge that the non-partisan movement is a corporation plunderbund. The men who have been most active in its leadership include many who have been for years the most steadfast supporters and defenders of municipal ownership of utilities in Fort Wayne. They have advocated the upbuilding and the extension of the waterworks and the city lighting systems early and late. You know them. You have confidence in their integrity and in their judgment. They are men of high standing and of known capacity whose loyalty to Fort Wayne and its best interests has been proven again and again. It has stood the test of time. Is it rational to suppose that this great company of representative citizens has in the twinkling of an eye been transformed into a wrecking crew? Do you believe they are banded together in some diabolical plot to surrender their homes, their business interests and the city which they have helped to make great to the tender mercies of the "corporations"? Who will permit himself to be deluded by any such inconceivable vagary, such preposterous charge as that?

But if definite and square-toed assurance to the contrary were necessary, it is amply supplied by the platform declarations and the personal pledges of the non-partisan nominees, from Mr. Buck down to the final name on the ticket. It is supplied, too, in terms that are unequivocal, that cannot be evaded and that are susceptible of but a single interpretation. That interpretation is a flat declaration to conserve the interests of the people, not alone in the matter of the waterworks and the lighting plants, but as to franchises, to track elevation, to street railway affairs and to all other questions in which the city must necessarily deal with the corporations which seek to do business as public utilities. Do not allow yourself to be deluded by the balderdash of the "corporations" cry. The non-partisan movement is for Fort Wayne and its people. There is in it no tinge of corporation taint.

Clergymen in one thousand Chicago pulpits on Sunday delivered "safety" sermons to aid the safety crusade now in progress there. The speakers did not confine themselves to traffic problems alone, but touched upon safety from disease germs, bad water, damp basements, unventilated buildings and moral reforms. The "safety" crusade opens a broad field for constructive work, and the pulpit can prove itself a powerful factor in popular education along this line.

At every city election in the past Fort Wayne has been voting for a political party. Next week you will have an opportunity of voting for Fort Wayne in the support of Mr. Buck and the non-partisan movement. It is the chance for which thousands of Fort Wayne voters have long been waiting.

With the Mexican election probably void from the fact that not a sufficient number of voters went to the polls on Sunday, Provisional President Huerta will have little difficulty in figuring out who is going to continue in that job as dictator for awhile.

HE'S THE MAN WHO MADE THE GUGGENHEIMS STAND HITCHED.

LOADING COAL ON LIGHTHOUSE TENDER CORDOVA, ALASKA, AND (BELOW) JACK DALTON.

(By E. O. Sawyer.)

Cordova, Alaska, Oct. 21.—Jack Dalton, pioneer of all Alaskan pioneers, whom Cordovans proudly point out as "the only man in the territory who had nerve enough to make the Guggenheims stand hitched, wants the government to open the coal fields and build railroads into the interior of this bountifully rich country of Alaska.

Dalton came to Alaska in 1884 and many a path he cut where no man had ever been before. On the government maps these are marked "Dalton trail." Just now Jack is running a sawmill here, near the Guggenheim dock. He plans to build a dock of his own next year and a cold storage plant. There are vast halibut banks off this port and cold storage will make Cordova a fabulously rich fishing town.

Before he came to Alaska Dalton, who was born in Kansas, drove pack trains in the great southwest. When this hardy pioneer came here it was just a howling wilderness.

"When I first went into the Yukon country the wolf packs used to keep us company," said Dalton. "They trailed us day after day and circled the camp by night. Now and then a dog wandered too far from the line and didn't come back—sometimes they pulled down a horse.

"I was the first man to bring pack horses into Alaska and they wanted to put me in an asylum. But it was no colder here than in Minnesota and they did fine. Along in '87 I had three hundred of them packing supplies to mines from the head of Lynn canal, where Skagway now stands. They were $125 a ton, so I cleared some ground on the east slope and raised timothy, three and a half tons to the acre. It cost me about $5 a ton in the barn. So that's how they started to grow things here.

Dalton is credited with being the first white man to cross the headwaters of the White river. He was at Dawson during the first gold rush and has since been interested in many mining ventures.

When the Guggenheims failed in their efforts to establish a terminus for their line at Katalla he assisted in locating the Cordova route. At this time he staked the copper claim on which his home and sawmill are now located. Later the railroad selected the same point for its dock site.

Jack didn't amount to much in the eyes of the Guggenheims and they started to lay track right through his claim. He issued a warning and when the workmen got pretty close he visited headquarters.

What happened there I learned from the old Cordovans before I went to see the old timer. They say he walked up to the superintendent and said, "I told you not to build across my claim. You can come within six feet of it with your railroad track and no closer—that's the law. Now, if you have that track put any closer than six feet, I am not going to shoot up the engineers or the workmen, but I'm going to pay you another call."

Dalton has a reputation throughout Alaska as a rifle shot—he simply doesn't miss, ever.

While we were talking I said, "By the way, Dalton, that railroad track runs across the corner of your claim, doesn't it?"

"No," he answered, "it just skirts round the edge—you see my line runs here and the railroads is over six feet away at every point. I had quite a little argument about that, but it's all settled now."

Dalton is a friend of Gifford Pinchot and he is a great admirer of Senator Pinchot.

"Nothing would be better for Alaska than for the government to take over this line and continue it into the interior," he declared, earnestly. "There are great opportunities for agricultural and mineral development, but not without low and equal freight rates. The government should operate a steamship line also or else force the present line to equalize its rates. The rates are very reasonable as far north as Skagway, because there is competition, but the rate here is double that to Skagway, and then some."

"I think the government has been a little slow about opening the coal fields. We need fuel, and the stuff they bring up here and sell for coal is a disgrace. The government should mine the coal right away, or arrange so that private capital could mine a part of the fields without there being a monopoly."

"I am a friend of the department of the interior, for think what it has done for the forests. The Chugach forest reserve here prevents waste and I, the Guggenheims or anybody else can buy all the timber we want at a nominal figure. Why, the forester will even show you where the best timber is located, and everybody gets a square deal. If there weren't a forest service here, some monopoly would have the thing so tied up I couldn't buy a long anywhere."

"I hope it won't be that way with the coal here."

CLOSING UP A COURT.

(New York World.) Sentence of death effective Dec. 31 next has finally been passed upon the commerce court. It was created by act of congress in 1910 in response to the urgent recommendation of President Taft. He was confident that it would prove highly serviceable in support of the interstate commerce commission. In fact, it interfered with the commission, usually taking the side of the railroads. Congress, which established the court reluctantly, has voted three times in the last two years for its abolition. Two bills were vetoed by Mr. Taft. The third was approved by Mr. Wilson on Tuesday. If the personnel of the court—Robert W. Archbald, who was impeached, was a member—had been different, it might have had longer life, but it is clear now that it forwarded no useful purpose in the scheme of government.

GWATHMEYS HAVE SEPARATION TEST

Principals in Bishop Case Are Now Trying Novel Love Plan.

IT MAY UNITE THEM

New York, Oct. 27.—A novel "trial separation" which it is hoped, will lead to an ultimate reconciliation, is being tested by Millionaire J. Temple Gwathmey and his beautiful wife, Mrs. Leila Gwathmey, co-respondent in the sensational Bishop divorce case, according to a close friend of one of them.

Mr. Gwathmey, whose generous assertion, "I will stick to my wife," startled society, believes, it is said, that time and distance will prove the panacea for any bitterness that may have arisen between himself and his wife over the sensational disclosures that followed the public charges brought against Mrs. Gwathmey and James Cunningham Bishop, wealthy banker, by the latter's wife.

Mrs. Gwathmey is of the same belief. She has gone to Texas, and, upon her return, it is said, is hopeful of a reconciliation with her husband. Mrs. Gwathmey has not recovered from the nervous ordeal she was under during the trial and is anxious to forget the past and will avail herself of her husband's protection.

She has been persuaded, too, to consider returning to her husband by her two sons, one of whom is a student at Princeton and the other at Exeter. Both, however, agreed that a separation for a time would be best. Their friends believe that the separation will be but temporary.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Gwathmey have for a moment contemplated any legal action against each other. This on the word of David Hunter Miller, the former's attorney, and George Gordon Battle, counsel for the latter.

James C. Bishop, through his counsel, Henry W. Taft, requested Justice Giegerich to direct Mrs. Bishop to file an application to make her interlocutory decree of divorce final so that he may be free.

"My client does not know whether he is a married man or not," explained Mr. Taft. "The legal time has expired for Mrs. Bishop to make this application."

The argument was set for November 10.

YOUNG GIRL LEAPS TO DEATH.

Misses Rope She Jumps for in Trying to Escape From Home.

Newark, N. J., Oct. 27.—Trying to escape from the house of the Good Shepherd, Elizabeth Taylor, 10 years old, fell four stories, struck her head upon the asphalt pavement of the yard and was killed. The girl's home is at Elizabeth, N. J. She was committed to the home three months ago. She and another girl sought to escape. Fastened to a hook in the wall of the dormitory, between windows at the fourth floor, is a pulley line running from the laundry. The girls planned to climb out on the window sill, swing over to the line and slide down it and then drop, taking further chance of getting out of the yard. They were discovered as the Taylor girl was climbing out of the window. Her companion still was inside the building. When she saw they were discovered, the Taylor girl leaped for the line, missed it and dropped to her death.

DEATH IN ELECTRIC TOUCH.

Burned Finger-End Indicates How Foreman Met His Fate.

Pottsville, Pa., Oct. 27.—Bernard McKeever, foreman of the Eastern Pennsylvania Light, Heat and Power company's station at East Arch and Railroad streets, was electrocuted while at work in the station, which is situated in the heart of Pottsville. McKeever was alone, but was found dead by Joseph McKiernan and Policeman James Moyer. The tip of his left forefinger was burned, and this was probably the point of contact with the fatal electric fluid. There was also an open wound on the back of the head, probably caused when McKeever fell over dead.

He was in the act of turning a number of screws, from which the current had been turned off by a lever from all screws but one.

Mr. Buck on Repair of Streets and Alleys

To the Voters of the City of Fort Wayne:

Every citizen is interested in the provisions of the following plank from the Non-Partisan platform:

REPAIR OF STREETS AND ALLEYS

We insist that the indiscriminate tearing up of paved streets and alleys to lay pipes and sewers and to make repairs in other public utilities shall cease and no street or alley be permitted to be torn up except in case of absolute necessity, and that, when so torn up, that it be immediately restored to its original condition. We also insist on all unpaved streets and alleys such repairs be made in such manner as to leave no trenches, ditches or embankments therein as has been done in the past to such an extent as to make the city unsightly, and render travel on such streets dangerous.

We also insist that all street railway companies shall keep in repair their portion of all streets and shall not permit the same to remain in the unsafe and unsightly condition in which so many now are.

Probably one of the greatest wastes that our taxpayers have been called upon to suffer has resulted from the reckless and unnecessary tearing up of street pavements for the installation of water service pipes, sewer, gas and other connections, which might as readily have been made before the pavement was laid, had proper notice been given, and provision been made for the making of such connections. This results from the unbusinesslike way in which we have heretofore conducted our public business, especially with reference to installing street improvements. Not only have the taxpayers been bled by imperfect

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is thick with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns up to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

MRS. J. F. FRENCH, OF RAY, IND., EXPRESSES GRATITUDE

That the various electric processes now in use will often achieve results in the healing art that cannot be done by medicines is evidenced by this extract from a letter received a few days ago by Dr. Wells from one of his patients from a distance:

"I am much better. I can hear the clock tick across the room. Before I went to you I could not hear it when close beside it. I am so thankful and love to tell others of the good you have done for me.

"Gratefully, with kind regards,

"MRS. J. F. FRENCH, Ray, Ind."

Mrs. French is one of many patients who have come to me from a distance. This is because modern therapy achieves results that old-time methods could not do. In the expenditure of more than three thousand dollars for intricate electrical apparatus designed for curing difficult diseases, I have fortified my knowledge of medicines with the means of reaching many obstinate diseases that could not be cured by medical treatment alone.

For more than ten years I have practiced in Fort Wayne, devoting my attention largely to electrical practice. In that time I have introduced a number of innovations which have proven to be of great value to the afflicted. I invite those suffering from any chronic or obstinate malady to call and see me. Let me add, that these electric treatments are absolutely painless.

RECEIVER FOR TAVERN SALOON

William C. Klitzke Begins Suit for $4,200 for Money Loaned.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

On petition of William C. Klitzke the circuit court today appointed William Horn receiver for W. D. Collins and the Tavern saloon operated by Collins at 619 Calhoun street. The demand is for $4,200 which the plaintiff in the case alleges that he has at different times loaned the defendant. The receiver has taken charge of the place and will administer it under a bond of $2,400. The Tavern is in the room occupied for many years by the Fred Boltz saloon and later by Gearhart & Swift. It was entirely refitted and refurnished last spring and is one of the handsomest barrooms in the city.

Notes of the Courts.
In the superior court today Ruth Bixler was granted a divorce from Burt Bixler, given the custody of two minor children and $10 a month for their support.

Judgment for $72.45 was rendered for the plaintiff in the superior court today in the suit of William Babl vs. William Stuck, Jr., et al.

Two cases of Kadeel Teen vs. Mary Maloley were dismissed from the superior court today.

Howard Paxton, a colored man, was fined $25 costs in the circuit court for contributing to the moral delinquency of Hazel Thomas. This is about the last of the "scandal" indictments.

In the circuit court a divorce has been granted to Virginia Rensberger from Louis Rensberger. She was given $800 alimony, the custody of a child and $10 a month for support. Rensberger was recently convicted at Winchester of stealing goods from the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad on which he was a conductor and is now in jail.

Cora Miller has commenced suit in the superior court for divorce from Theodore

HELP OTHERS TO HAPPINESS

Our Life's Work Should Be a Just Cause for Our Existence.

The ultimate aim of activity should be to the happiness of the human race, contributing to the happiness and welfare of humanity generally and individually is right and moral. Conversely, contributing to unhappiness and suffering is wrong and immoral. No rational thinker will deny the fact of consciously depart from it. The persistent advocacy and practical use of these words would aid materially toward the development of the human race and more misery would disappear from the world.

But the greatest and most important measure still is the retention of health and the prevention of disease.

If the old homily "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" were more appreciably understood, the great prevalence of disease that has no right to exist, would be materially lessened.

The question now that logically suggests itself is, how can these preventative methods and cures be effected? In this age of progression new and efficient methods have superseded the old in all arts and professions and medical science, too, has undergone remarkable changes. Advancement is no longer a delusion and progress a figment of the infantile brain. Efficient methods that were virtually undiscovered ten years ago are used by the competent physician everywhere in his stupendous task of preserving health and saving life. And these are the methods employed by the United Specialists as their many patients who have fortunately consulted them.

The United Specialists are a coalition of doctors working in unison, where the spirit of mutual helpfulness prevails and each of the profession stimulate the other to the greatest possible activity that will result in benefit to the mutual client, the patient.

This is the keynote of the success of their institutions which has grown so marvelously in its short period of existence and more strongly is this fact corroborated by numerous testimonials written by patients narrating the cures they have obtained under the patronage of this institution.

These doctors do not claim to be wonder-workers, neither do they confer miracles on any patient. Their success is due to their exceptional technical skill, together with their unlimited facilities for treating disease. The medicines used are brands recognized as a guarantee of superiority and this combined with a thorough knowledge of their therapeutic value and administration, accounts for the recognition they have received from the people of Fort Wayne and vicinity. Read this testimonial received last Saturday:

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 25, 1913.

Since September 19th, I have been treated by the United Specialists and it is a pleasure for me to say that they have done me more real good than any Specialist that I have ever seen. Their superior methods certainly produce the right kind of results. Any man who is suffering from a chronic, deep seated disease will not be disappointed if they are treated by the United Specialists, as I am sure they will do as well for them as they have for me.

CHAS. FARRAR, Paulding, Ohio.

Many men who had formerly been treated for years have asked the United Specialists to refer other men to them. They treat all chronic and nervous diseases, including Gout, Rheumatism, all Stomach and Intestinal Troubles, Rectal Diseases, Epilepsy and all Special Diseases of Men and Women.

Their offices are located at 124 East Washington boulevard. They will examine the afflicted free of charge. They accept no innumerable cases. Their hours are from 9-12, 1-5, 7-3 and 9-12 Sunday-Adm.

Miller. They were married August 13 last and separated two months later. She alleges cruelty and failure to provide.

Manford E. Lee has sued Catherine Surg in the superior court for $200, alleging the defendant sold him some hogs that were represented to be all right but had cholera and died and also infected other hogs he had.

The superior court suit of Charles Preble, administrator of the estate of Louis Bolman, against the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad, has been adjusted by agreement of the parties without a hearing and judgment for $4,500 for the plaintiff has been entered.

In the superior court judgment for $11.72 in favor of the plaintiff has been given in the suit of Luevas Leubart vs. August H. Kleucker.

In the superior court Oliver S. Jones, painting contractor, has brought suit against the Tavern saloon and W. D. Collins for $400 for work and materials.

Not Fort Wayne Lucke. Prof. M. Lucke, of Concordia college and Martin H. Lucke, Fort Wayne attorney, have been greatly embarrassed today by the publication that a Martin Lucke, of Columbia City, had been named defendant in a lawsuit for damages growing out of an automobile collision. Neither of the Fort Wayne Luckes has been sued and the similarity of names prompted both to state that it is neither of them.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

The county commissioners have referred to the Indiana railroad commission the request of Wayne Township Trustee Henry Brannings and 24 others that dangerous conditions at stop # on the Fort Wayne and Bluffton interurban line be eliminated. The crossing of the highway and the track are obscured by trees, buildings and shrubbery.

County Surveyor Ralph Guenther has awarded to S. D. Steiner the contract for digging the Conrad ditch in Cedar Creek township. Steiner's bid of $2,085 was the lowest of the five bids submitted. It will be a tile drain.

For the accommodation of the great army of shoppers from out of town the county commissioners have ordered the court house kept open until late Saturday night. The custom is to close the building at 5 o'clock in the evening.

COUNTY AGENT IS ASSURED.

The $500 that it is necessary should be popularly subscribed in order to obtain a county agent to give instruction in agriculture and domestic science in the schools of Allen county is practically provided for and the appointment of such an agent now seems assured. County Superintendent of Schools D. O. McComb had a conference Saturday with the board of education and favorable action was taken. The matter will next be taken up with the county council, which body will have to appropriate $1,500 to supplement a state appropriation of $1,000. Purdue university will designate the agent, who must be a graduate of that institution and have had two years of practical experience. Superintendent McComb says there are men in Allen county who meet the legal as well as all other requirements.

GILBERT HAS OPERATION.

Message from Manila Says He is Recovering from Ordeal.

A message received today by Dr. Edward J. McOscar, informs Fort Wayne friends that Newton W. Gilbert, vice-governor of the Philippine Islands, recently underwent a surgical operation for relief from appendicitis, and that he is rapidly recovering from the ordeal.

Mr. Gilbert is an Indiana man, and comes from the Twelfth congressional district, and has many warm friends in this part of the state who are pleased to hear of his successful operation.

Viola Gilbert, a daughter, also submitted to an operation for relief from appendicitis some time ago, and has fully recovered, according to the communication to Dr. McOscar.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROTECT METERS

Manager of City Lighting Plant Asks for Measure to Guard Current.

NEWS OF CITY HALL

At the request of General Manager George Smith, of the municipal lighting department, City Attorney H. G. Hogan is preparing an ordinance that is designed to protect electric meters from the weather and to guard them from being tampered with by consumers who know how to attach "jumpers" and similar devices for cheating. The ordinance, as General Manager Smith has outlined it, will provide that all city meters must be put under covered porches or inside the house in order to prevent rusting from exposure and the ultimate ruin of meters that cost from $3 to $75. It will also require that a board be provided on which may be installed a device that will prevent tampering with the meter and at the same time will permit the meter tester to dispatch his work more promptly. Meters cannot be placed above the first floor in any building, according to the ordinance, a provision purposed to expedite the work of meter readers. The ordinance will further provide that contractors and builders must provide a suitable installation for connecting service wires. This is a measure of safety designed to prevent cheap and unskilled wiring, such as is apt to cause fires. The ordinance will probably be introduced at the meeting of the council tomorrow night. Its operation is expected to save the city a good deal of money both by more efficient service of men in the lighting department and by the prevention of the theft of current.

PROGRESS ON BROADWAY.
Cars Will Be Running Through in Less Than Two Weeks.

By working its big gang on Sunday the traction company made a big gain in its track at the Broadway grade separation of the Wabash and today completed putting in concrete for the west track. With an even break in the matter of weather the company will be running cars through the subway in less than two weeks. The foundation will have to season for several days, after which it will not take long to get the ties in and the rails laid. Moelering's gang began work on the sidewalk Saturday and by the middle of the week the footway on the west side will be completed. The board is trying to get the entire west side of the work completed before cold weather closes operations.

The Brooks Construction company today began putting in cement for the Wabash avenue paving, which is being done by the Berghoff Brewing association in consideration of the franchise that was granted for a spur of track from the city car lines to the brewery.

BEAVER AVENUE MATTER UP.

Resolution for Opening of Street Up for Confirmation.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the board of works went into session for a hearing on confirmation of the resolution on opening of Beaver avenue from Home avenue to Broadway.

At the time the board went into session no persons were present. The improvement had been filed and it was indicated that the resolution would be confirmed. The board this afternoon received a petition from twenty resident property owners on Musterson avenue from Lafayette street to Hanna street, for the putting of that thoroughfare, asking that the contract for the work be let this fall.

PROMISES TO RUSH WORK.

Calhoun Street Subway Sidewalks to Be Completed in Month.

In a conference with the board of works the Moelering Construction company, which submitted the low bid for reconstruction of the sidewalks in the Calhoun street subway, agreed to have the work under way by the first of next week and completed by Dec. 1. The board will no doubt enter into a contract and get this work out of the way at once. The sidewalks are to be raised to a total height of thirty-two inches above the street pavement. The work is to be done to eliminate a condition dangerous to pedestrians.

FOR FIVE NEW FIREMEN.

An ordinance providing for the appointment of five additional men to the city fire force will be presented to the city council tomorrow night. The additional men are provided for in the annual appropriations, and the board of safety will ask for the ordinance.

WILL REPORT FAVORABLY.

The council committee on rules, regulations and ordinances has prepared a report recommending for passage an ordinance that provides for burying all electric wires within the fire limits of the city.

Why Continue to Use Carbon Lamps?

OF COURSE they cost you nothing—at first—but you lose money every hour that you burn them. In other words you pay for them on the installment plan, and at a much higher rate than the Mazda Lamps sell for.

An example—Consider one lamp burned 2½ hours per day for one year, making a total of 912½ hours for the year.

The carbon lamp is free, and the 16 candle power size uses 60 watts per hour, or 60x912½=54,750 watt hours during the year. This is equivalent to 54.75 kilowatt hours for which you pay 8 cents each, or a total cost of 54.75x.08=$4.38.

On the same basis a 25 watt Mazda Lamp giving 20 candle power would cost 25x912½=22,812.5 watt hours, or 22.8125 kilowatt hours. 22.8125 x .08=$1.825.

For this lamp you paid 28 cents, making the total cost $1.825 x .28=$.511.

Net saving for the year is $4.38-$2.105=$2.275.

Using the above you can calculate the cost of any lamp, and you will always find that the Mazda Lamp is the most economical.

IN THE CHURCHES

BIG CROWD HEARS REV. J. T. BROWN

Spirited Revival Services at Third Presbyterian Church.

TO GIVE A LECTURE

An audience so large that it taxed the seating capacity of the Third Christian church listened to a forceful evangelistic sermon Sunday evening by Rev. J. T. Brown, of Louisville, Ky., who with his wife is conducting a series of revival meetings.

In many ways, Sunday was a great day for the Third church. The Bible school attendance almost reached the two hundred mark and in the afternoon a special service for women was attended by a monster audience.

Evangelist Brown is forceful, logical, humorous and convincing. He is fearless in his denunciation of sin and says the church must get right with God before she can hope to win the world to Christ.

Tuesday afternoon there will be a unique service for children only. Mr. Brown will make a talk on "Strings." Each child is to bring a string as long as his or her is tall. One hundred colored slides will be used at the close, illustrating scenic America. Pictures of Yosemite valley, Yellowstone park and Niagara Falls. The lecture is free and will be given at 4 o'clock immediately after the public schools are out.

A large "smile chorus" of the young people will be organized Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday evening Mr. Brown will deliver his popular lecture on "Did Man Evolve From a Monkey?" Illustrated song at the close. F. L. Taylor, the minister, is delighted with the outlook for a great meeting.

Rally Day Services.

Rally day services at the First M. E. church were largely attended yesterday and an interesting program marked the day. Children of the Sunday school rendered an attractive program of exercises and services followed.

Church Notes.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the local union of Christian Endeavor societies Sunday afternoon the Endeavor society of the St. John's Reformed church was voted into the union.

This is just a new society, and has not adopted a constitution yet, but a committee is busy drawing up one, which will be adopted next Sunday evening at the regular meeting.

The St. John Reformed church celebrated their annual harvest home and mission feast Sunday by giving the holy communion to its members. Rev. Grethier, of Ohio, was the speaker of the day, delivering two sermons and an address to the Sunday school.

A reception will be held tomorrow evening at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ in honor of the new pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. E. O. Tomes. All members of the congregation and friends are invited to attend.

The ladies of the Precious Blood church will hold a bazaar of plain and fancy articles tomorrow and Wednesday afternoons and evening. Wagenhals—Orr.
The beautiful wedding of Miss Jessie Hill Orr and Mr. Herbert Hamilton Wagenhals, which took place on Saturday evening, October 25, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Orr, at half past 8 o'clock, was attended by relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The impressive marriage ceremony was performed by the groom's father, Rev. Dr. Samuel Wagenhals, with the concluding prayer and benediction by Rev. H. R. Master. The groom, attended by his best man, Mr. Onslow Orr, a brother of the bride, awaited the bride, who entered with her father, preceded by Mr. Roy Tiger, of Chicago, who acted as master of ceremonies, and drew white satin ribbons as a pathway for the bride, and her two bridesmaids, Miss Mildred Wagenhals and Miss Jeanette Stacey, of Cincinnati. The bride made a particularly lovely appearance in her wedding costume. Her gown was fashioned of ivory white charmeuse, made with a long train and with soft drapery arranged in the prevailing mode, while the bodice had a handsome garniture of duchess lace. There was a little trimming of pearl beads as a finishing touch, about the neck and sleeves, but on the whole the elegance of the gown was a matter of its material and style rather than of its decoration. The bridal veil of sheerest tulle was caught to the hair with a tiara effect of duchess lace and the bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and a lace scarf. Miss Stacey wore a blue chiffon gown trimmed with gold lace and Miss Wagenhals was in blue charmeuse with finishing touches of fine lace. Both bridesmaids carried yellow chrysanthemums. The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Horton, harpist, and Miss Carrie Olds, violinist. They played the bridal music from "Lobengrin" as the bride party came down stairs and after the marriage service during the supper, a beautiful program of favorite songs and wedding music. The supper for the bride party was served in the dining room and an enclosed porch adjoining it. The long tables formed a T, thus enabling the bride and groom to face the guests. The porch was entirely hung with southern smilax forming a literal bower. On of Dutch jewelry frames by Miss Niblick, of Indianapolis, and of pictures by Mr. Davison.

A Country Party.
Frank Holman, who lives south of the city, entertained a company of his relatives and friends on Sunday afternoon. There were about sixty guests in all and they gave Mr. Holman a surprise. Games were played and a beautiful dinner was enjoyed. All enjoyed a fine time.

Parent-Teacher Club Notice.

AT THE TEMPLE
A bill of real merit and full of originality is that offered by the Temple theater for the first half of this week. The headliner is "The Pullman Porter Maids," Tim McMahon's big girl act, and it is no wonder that this act has been headlined in all the larger cities of the east. Mr. and Mrs. James R. McCann & Co., offer a little playlet, "My Dixie Daddy," Frank Killian and Dick Moore in songs and sayings of now-a-days, are also a great hit. Tague and Geneva, in a series of up-to-date dances on the wire, are about the best ever in their line. Billy Barlow holds up his end of the comedy and comes in for his share of the applause. Moon and Philippe in a musical oddity open the show.

AT THE EMPRESS
There is fun-a-plenty in the current Empress bill. Good, clean, wholesome fun, the kind that is so often sought for, but so seldom found in the usual run of entertainments of today. Barton & Lovera, Joe Whitehead, "Happy" Jack George and others vie with one another in the department of fun making. The Seven American Whirlwinds, a septette of lightning fast acrobats, build human pyramids, revolve like pin wheels and thrill with feats of strength and skill. Whitehead is a funny fellow. His brand of comedy is built long wholly original lines and the term of "nut" comedian fits him admirably. Whitehead is a graceful dancer and his offer to dance any dance the audience will name, brings out many amusing requests. He backs up on none but "Salome," "The Fighter and the Boss," an interesting playlet, reminiscent of the famous "Shorty" McCabe stories, current for many years in a popular magazine, is splendidly acted by Richard Milloy and Clarence Mackey.

"Happy" Jack George, by reason of his originality, if nothing else, scores as one of the best black face comedians ever seen in the city. George does not go in for the usual monologue stuff, but delivers a stump speech that is full of witticisms. Barton and Lovera dance in wholly different style from the usual vaudevillians. There is plenty of comedy and lots of novelty combined in this interesting offering. Katherine Klare sings sweetly many familiar old Irish songs and dazzles with a splendid array of handsome gowns.

AT THE JEFFERSON
The Jefferson theater, under new management, will have its grand opening Tuesday, offering a riot of fun, good drama and good music. It would be difficult to imagine a more laughable photoplay than "When the Menagerie Broke Loose," a two-part special feature Vitagraph comedy that will be presented tomorrow at the Jefferson.

On its way to town the cars carrying a circus menagerie are wrecked and the animals get loose. They wander into the town and institute a veritable "reign of terror" for a few hours. A group of lions make havoc of a butcher's shop while the bears get into a grocery store and upset things generally. Other animals also meet with remarkable adventures and provide the townspeople with enough talk to last them a century. A pair of leopards pay a visit to the barber, who, however, does not wait around to slave them but makes tracks double quick time.

Among the most laughable scenes of the play are those showing the travels of the monkeys, who manage to get into a fruit store and scare away the girls attending it. The mischievous animals then proceed to enjoy their full, but manage to spoil many times more fruit than they actually consume. The store is a sight for the gods long before they get through with it.

A half dozen of snakes enter a place where snakes are said to be frequently seen, that is, into a saloon. The loungers at the bar think they have "got 'em again" and are reduced almost to a state of insanity. It is only the arrival of the keeper that prevents several suicides.

Finally all the animals are corralled and placed back in their cages. The folks of the town have had enough circus for one day so the big tent is not erected after all. The show makes the best time possible to the next stop, where it is to be hoped that the animals will be kept in their proper places.

There will also be a most excellent musical program, the musical feature being Young's Mandolin club. Carnations will be presented to the ladies during the afternoon and evening.

of the bride's table the coloring was pink. Pink Killarney roses were used abundantly and pink gauze ribbon trimmed the bride's table. The bride's favors to her girlhood friends were dainty pot-pourris of rose leaves. At the table where the nearest relatives were seated the flowers were Richmond roses. The rest of the house was decorated with very tall wicker baskets that held long stemmed yellow chrysanthemums and oak foliage. The effect throughout was very attractive. When the bride and groom left on their trip to Aurora, where they will spend two weeks at the home of the groom's aunt, Miss Margaret V. Hamilton, the bride wore a dark gray chinchilla cloth suit with cream lace and net blouse and a handsome hat of purple velvet with numida ornament. Mr. and Mrs. Wagenhals will make their home in Cleveland and after the first of December will be at home at 11411 Ashbury avenue. The out of town guests included Mr. Taber Hamilton, of Chambersburg, Pa., an own cousin to the groom; Miss Hamilton, of Aurora; Miss Margaret Wagenhals, sister to the groom, of New York city; Mr. Ed Newell, of New York.

Woman's League Meeting.
A regular meeting of the Woman's League will be held on Saturday afternoon at the public library. The Art department has the program in charge and Mr. Davison, chairman of the department, has arranged to have a stereopticon talk on "Interior and Exterior Household Decoration" by Mrs. Grace Wilcox, of New York, and an exhibition of the millinery craft in the United States and the oldest milliner in the world. Mrs. M. T. Elam, who is eighty-five years old, is known today as one of the most successful and vigorous women in the trade, and the heads of the big wholesale houses regret her loss and fail to see why, even in spite of her years, she should retire.

Last year, on the occasion of her one hundredth millinery opening, five of the largest millinery houses in the country joined in presenting her a beautiful silver loving cup as a token of their deep regard for this old lady.

Mrs. Elam makes only one comment as she retires.

"In my long experience," she says, "I have seen constant trend toward more sensible and more artistic hats for women. It would be a pleasure to sell this year's styles. But—competition is getting too keen for one of my age."

WORLD'S OLDEST MILLINER, DEAN OF THE CRAFT, RETIRES.

MRS. M. T. ELAM AND HER LOVING CUP

Americus, Ga., Oct. 27.—The dean of the millinery craft in the United States and the oldest milliner in the world, Mrs. M. T. Elam, who is eighty-five years old, is known today as one of the most successful and vigorous women in the trade, and the heads of the big wholesale houses regret her loss and fail to see why, even in spite of her years, she should retire.

Last year, on the occasion of her one hundredth millinery opening, five of the largest millinery houses in the country joined in presenting her a beautiful silver loving cup as a token of their deep regard for this old lady.

Mrs. Elam makes only one comment as she retires.

"In my long experience," she says, "I have seen constant trend toward more sensible and more artistic hats for women. It would be a pleasure to sell this year's styles. But—competition is getting too keen for one of my age."

WOOD CARVER IS A QUEER ARTIST

Cuts from Solid Block With Pocket Knife and With No Design.

HE MAKES 'PUZZLES

Pittsburg, Oct. 27.—From that ancient of days when most of the things that were beloved came from the marvelous growth called wood, things were fashioned for use or abuse. The primeval man did work in wood that were supplimental in works of stone and flint and metal, but never in any age has the fascination ceased for the working in wood.
Long before metal engraving came as an industry rather than an art engraving
on wood, after the manner of such masters as Albrecht Durer, gave rise to a new and ever newer art.

Out in the east end there is a man
yet young who has done some marvelous carving in wood. He has done it all for the pleasure of doing, has never sold a piece, cares not to sell and in his middle age continues to do with a pocket knife things which he began when he was a small boy.

In his cozy home in the east end F. J.
Stalker, whose daily work is in the insurance business, carves puzzles that would baffle the most cunning of the Chinese and Japanese. Not only in his home does he do these weird things, but on the street and steam cars and at picnics when others are engaged doing thoughtless stunts. Mr. Stalker, attracting no attention, for he is one of the most retiring and modest of men, has his little pocket knife at work in hardwood or softwood fashioning something that has occurred to his imagination.

Prepares No Design.

Nothing is previously designed. He makes no blue prints. He has never used level, compass or square, or any of their affiliates. All come from the conception of the mind and an infallible measurement of the eye.

In the volume of about 1,100 pieces, illustrating all phases of animal life, which of course includes the human, Mr. Stalker has copied nothing but his own mental conception.

Given a piece of wood, no matter of
what growth or genus a straight stick,
and he will transform it into such joints
and grooves and mystifying problems as were never thought out by another; and with all that he says that he simply thought of a few things and the pocket
knife did the rest.

The delicate jointures, with a mathematical precision that could hardly be attained by the use of the most accurate instruments, show a titling that is almost beyond conception of the uncarving mind.
The execution of it all, in joints and pivots, not a connection that is not of the carving of the solid wood, not a pinpoint that is not created from one continuous solid piece, articulations as delicate as tissue paper all fitting with mathematical perfection this modest man, who captures life insurance, does in his moments when he wants to amuse himself and is out of the day's running in giving opportunity to others to play
the game of death with the game of life.

Carve From Nature.

There is scarcely anything in nature that is not illustrated in the carving of this man from woods grown in all parts of the world. For instance, he has a fine piece taken from a box which had packed a crate of olives. He has globes within globes which would put to naught and several explanations the most expert of the mathematicians of the University of Pittsburg or of the Tech schools. Yet he is not a technical mathematician.
He measures all things with his eye and rarely makes a mistake.

One of his marvels is a necklace, as it might be called, consisting of no fewer than 104 links of a chain made from one solid piece of wood, as are all his works.
That is one of the almost inconceivable features of all this wonderful employ of spare moments. Every one of the more than 1,000 pieces in his pretty cabinet is carved with indescribable delicacy from a solid piece of wood. This necklace is fine as the handiwork which produces Brussels or Spanish lace. Each link of the scores of them is evolved and interwoven from one solid stick of wood.
Mr. Stalker will show to his visitor what appears to be a solid block. Then he will disjoint it into many parts, not a connection showing until he makes the showing.

Mr. Stalker never did this fond work for profit. He has never sold anything nor does he want to sell anything. He has given examples of his genius to friends, but he carves solely as a labor of love. In any way or another his products have become known, and he has had visitors from all parts of the world of persons who had a soul for the possible wonders that could be born of insensitive wood, but he uses his little pocket knife for the pleasure it gives him, and in all the history of pocket knives there has not been created anything more magical.

FLAYS THE RICH FOR IMMORALITY

The Social Evil is Not a Problem for Women,
Says Summer.

CRITICISES THE DANCE

New York, Oct. 27.—Dean Walter T.
Summer, of the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul, Chicago, vice fighter and marriage law reformer, was the chief speaker at a mass meeting held in New Synod hall of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine "to increase interest in the cause of the wayward girl." The Rev. Dr. W.
T. Manning, rector of Trinity, presided,
and addresses were made by the Rev.
Flord W. Thompkins, of Philadelphia,
and the Anglican monk, Father J. O. S.
Huntington, O. H. C.

Dean Summer confessed with amazing frankness that his cathedral parish "is located in the most vicious, poverty-stricken and immoral district in Chicago."

"We bewail the class distinction," he said, "and class consciousness. Who are creating it? None so much as those of wealth by their extravagance and their support of immoral influences in dress,
literature, indecent songs and a degenerate stage."

"I have told you the character of the districts about our cathedral. Turn away from that a moment. I'll take you to the north side or the south side of

Chicago, where live people of wealth and assumably of culture and refinement—
people, who, because of their education and culture, should set the standard of conduct for the community—and what do I see?

Same Dances in Rich Homes.
"I find in their drawing rooms the same licentiousness, immoral, fantastically-named dances that I have just left in the immoral resorts of my district—dances which have been borrowed from an immoral source and which are in themselves immoral. The police check these dances in the dance halls of the poor. What but a social regeneration can check them in the halls of the rich?"

Then touching the vital points of the social question, he thundered out:
"We have taken advice as old as the world and have commercialized it. I say we—I refer to man. Too long have we approached this subject from the woman's standpoint. It is not a woman problem; it is a man problem."

"It is high time that we stop asking,
'Where did she come from? How did she get into that life?' and ask the more pertinent question, 'Where did he come from? Who are the 5,000,000 men who furnish the $10,000,000 annual profit each year? Why this demand?'
"We hear it said it is a necessary evil. To whom? To the man? To manhood? Ask any physician or physiologist. They will tell you different.
What an insult to the celibate clergy of a great religious community! Is it necessary to womanhood? What a lack of knowledge of the abhorrence on the part of womanhood?"

"Is it necessary to public health? We know too much now about the statistics revealed in health certificates before marriage, and I have even more startling facts, all a direct repudiation of this contention."

Not Good Sports at All.
The dean then declared that men in pursuit of their passions were not good sportsmen.

"This kind of a man," he declared,
"hasn't a spark of honor. He goes after the shopgirl, lured to the city by its very artificiality. She suddenly finds, when the lights of the shops are turned out and her hand has gathered the soft fabrics for the last time, that she is a person all alone in the world.
And what is more depressing than this sense of loneliness that comes across her? Along comes this unsportsmanlike fellow with his advances."

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

FREIGHT YARD IS FINISHED

Wabash is Now Handling Business at Fort Wayne Without Hindrance.

PENNSY OFFICIALS INSPECT PROPERTY

President Samuel Rea and the Board of Directors Pass Through City.

For the first time in over three years the Wabash company is doing business in its new yards and freight house without being discommoded by improvements on the property or to the streets leading to it or surrounding it. This morning the new pavements on Grand and Harrison streets were opened to traffic, giving opportunity for opening the Harrison street entrances to the driveways in the freight yards and today a dozen or so of teams are engaged in cleaning the accumulation of mud and debris from the brick pavements of the driveways. Satisfaction with the new conditions at the freight house and yards is reflected in the smiling countenances of Commercial Agent A. L. Gilbert and Freight Agent J. T. McFarland today. Mr. Gilbert said this morning: "We have been working to a disadvantage for the past three years, but all the obstructions have been removed and we can handle business at the freight terminal with greater satisfaction to our patrons and ourselves than heretofore. June 10, 1910, when preparations for track elevation were being made, we moved into temporary freight terminals at Fairfield avenue and from that day to the present the local business of the company was carried on under most unfavorable conditions. We expect a handsome increase in local traffic as a result of the completion of the new freight house, team tracks and their approaches." The McFarland Construction company built the pavements on Grand and Harrison streets and now has a gang of men at work cutting the sidewalk on the south side of Grand street down to the proper level, about four feet.

BOARDINGHOUSE LADY VERY SICK

Mrs. Anna McCormicks, for a quarter of a century proprietor of a boarding house at which the chief patrons were the special apprentices and young men employed by the Pennsylvania company, is lying ill at No. 312 East Berry street, with but little prospect of recovery. No boardinghouse proprietor was ever held in higher esteem by her boarders than Mrs. McCormicks. Many of her former boarders are now occupying good positions in railway work. Among the men who were employed by the Pennsylvania and boarded with Mrs. McCormicks during the latter part of her career as a landlady were: C. P. Reese, A. C. Davis, E. E. Dillman, E. E. Greist, A. C. Courtney, F. R. Fitzpatrick, O. C. Wright, Walter A. Johnson, P. H. Gode, T. R. Cook, Edison Brock, John Conick, A. L. Blake, F. S. Zollars, John and James Leach, A. W. Dater and a number of others. All will be sorry to hear of the misfortune of their old landlady.

WAS AN EXPERT WITNESS.

O. O. Thwing, chief engineer and general manager of the Western Gas Construction company, has returned from Fargo, N. D. He was called there several days ago to give expert testimony in a suit to oust a gas plant from a residence portion of the city of Fargo, the complainants declaring it a nuisance. The plant was built thirty-one years ago and was out in the country then. Since the city has expanded in that direction and the plant is now in the center of a residence section. Two expert gas men from Chicago and one from Cincinnati also attended the trial and the testimony of all favored the defendants.

THOMAS SHEA DEAD.

Thomas Shea, who prior to the American Railway union strike, in 1894, was employed as a switchman in the local yards of the Pennsylvania, died at his home in St. Louis yesterday. He was an old time friend of Assistant Foreman William Wehrs, of the Pennsylvania planing mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Wehrs went to St. Louis last night to attend the funeral. Since leaving Fort Wayne, Mr. Shea has been working in railway yards in St. Louis.

VISITING OLD FRIENDS.

Mr. and Mrs. Diedrich Hohmeyer, of Detroit, are spending a week in Fort Wayne and vicinity. Years ago they resided here and Mr. Hohmeyer was employed in the glass shops. He established a file factory in Detroit when he left this city and successfully operated it for a number of years. He is now enjoying the fruits of his labors, having disposed of the factory and retired from business.

HANDLING HOCKING VALLEY TRAINS.

Early this morning the Pennsylvania handled five passenger trains between Upper Sandusky and Bucyrus for the Hocking Valley road. The latter line was badly blocked by a freight wreck at Marion, Ohio, at 3 o'clock this morning. Fifteen cars, loaded with coal, were derailed and piled up on the tracks. So far as known, no one was injured.

KNOCKED OFF MOTORCYCLE.

Henry S. Strasser, of 733 Walnut street, a Pennsylvania engineer, sustained some painful bruises when the motorcycle he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by a lady. His knee was particularly badly injured and the injury will disable him for several days at least. Mr. Strasser filed complaint against the lady at the police station.

District Passenger Agent Frank P. Farnin, of the Nickel Plate, is engaged in part on the week-end excursion to Cleveland one week from next Saturday. Mr. Farnin says the people along the line are enthusiastic and the excursion will be the largest the company ever gave to that city. "We will take over 1,500 people into Cleveland on the two trains on that day," said Mr. Farnin.

Mrs. Sarah Zeigler, of New York, who sustained a fracture of one of her arms two weeks ago while visiting at the home of her son, Frank Zeigler, of Monroe street, is improving and will leave this afternoon for Bellevue to spend a few weeks with another son, Conductor C. W. Zeigler, of the Nickel Plate. Mrs. C. W. Zeigler came here yesterday to visit relatives and accompany her mother-in-law to Bellevue.

H. E. Passmore, who will retire from the office of master mechanic of the Toledo and Ohio November 1, served an apprenticeship in the Pennsylvania shops at Altoona and took employment in the T. & O. shops at Bucyrus in 1903. He is known to many local Pennsylvania employees, who look upon him as a man with exceptional ability. Mr. Passmore has been elected vice president in charge of sales of the Grip Nut company, with headquarters in Bucyrus and he will devote his entire time to the business of that company.

days of his sentence yet to run. He has returned married and wealthy and surrendered himself at the central police station. He explained that he had gone to Alaska and struck it rich, but that the cloud of his unexpired term had bothered his conscience. He asked if he could pay a fine and escape going to jail, but the city attorney found that the sentence called for serving time. Walker declared his willingness to be locked up. During the next thirty days Walker will be extended every favor possible and will be made prison trustee. His wife will be given the privilege of visiting him each day.

HE GAVE BAD BOYS A CHANCE, AND THEY "MADE GOOD."

SUPERINTENDENT DERRICK.

The boys quickly learned that they were only hurting themselves and their company by infractions of the rules," said Supt. Derrick. "They were impressed with the fact that they were citizens with responsibilities. The change was wonderful."

The result is the Preston School republic, with a formal dedication of the first "honor cottage."

It was built by the boys and will accommodate from 50 to 100. Here the "honor caddies" live free from all restraint, with parole or outright discharge as the next step.

In having this cottage built and furnished," said Supt. Derrick, "I had in mind a type of home and clubroom which would become a sort of standard of excellence for the boys when they have made good in the world and are ready to construct and furnish their own homes."

"It is to be open to all who demonstrate that they realize their social responsibilities and are in earnest about the business of life."

The first president of the Preston school republic is Henry Hornestein, a cadet who was elected after a spirited campaign between the "progressives" and the "unions."

The constitution under which the republic will be governed, written entirely by the boys, is declared to be one of the most remarkable documents ever prepared.

It is deeply significant, declares Supt. Derrick, that the most enthusiastic citizens of the new republic are the members of the former "tough companies," who used to fight the authorities at every turn. Runaways have dwindled to a negligible number.

"If we've been taught what it means to be real square guys on the outside most of us would never be here at all," volunteered "The Runt," one of the most remarkable examples of regeneration credited to the Derrick "honor" regime at Preston. He was a street prowler, brand of juvenile delinquency, San Francisco police and juvenile authorities.

"You can't beat it into us, though," he added, with an echo of his old defiance.

GOING TO AFRICA TO HUNT BIG GAME WHERE NO OTHER WHITE WOMAN EVER TROD.

Upper—Mrs. Frederick K. Burnham and the head of one of her recent trophies of the chase—the dreaded grizzly bear. Lower picture shows Mrs. Burnham in camp in the wilds of Alaska. San Francisco, Oct. 27.—To penetrate the wilds of Africa in search of big game, following trails never before traversed by a woman, is what Mrs. Frederick K. Burnham is now preparing to do. She will accompany her husband.

"It is my great ambition to bring down my own big game in a region where no white woman ever has gone before me," declares Mrs. Burnham. "I see no reason why I shouldn't succeed. I have been with my husband on many of his big hunting trips—his excursions in Sumatra, Australia and his recent chase of bear and wild goats in Southeastern Alaska.

"I have done some shooting on these trips and I am familiar with the work, having had as instructors some of the most experienced sportsmen in the world. One needs to be cool and have a sure aim, and one needs to be careful of health. Then wild game hunting is comparatively easy, although it is never unexciting.

"Our trip to Central Africa will start early next year. We will go first to British Africa and take the Uganda railway to Nairobi; thence to Mount Kenya.

After enjoying the sport there we will return to Nairobi and go to Lake Victoria Nyanza, journeying thence by easy stages to Malabailand.

"Stewart Edward White, the author and hunter, is now there, gathering the data for us. He will accompany us back into this wild region.

"Our return trip will be through the heart of Central Africa to the Nile country, following the route taken by Col. Roosevelt. R. G. Cunningham, who performed the same service for Roosevelt and who has great experience hunting in all this country and A. W. Black, noted African hunter from Australia, will manage our expedition. We will have 100 porters and every facility for making our expedition safe and successful.

"If fevers and the tsetse fly don't upset our plans we hope to bring back some wonderful trophies to add to those already hanging in our bungalow near Martinez."

had been identified as stockholders of the owning company for many years.

William Ross Proctor has purchased box No. 26 in the "golden horseshoe" from the estate of the late Samuel D. Babcock, and Henry Reese Hoyt and his sister, Miss Rosina S. Hoyt, have bought box No. 33 from the Hitchcock estate.

In recent years the transfer or purchase of parterre boxes in the Metropolitan have been events of as great interest in the business and social world as the sale of seats on the Stock Exchange, with the monetary side at present being to the advantage of the opera house. From an original stock value of $30,000, a parterre box has risen until its worth is estimated at from $100,000 to $120,000, whereas the best price in recent years for a seat on the Stock Exchange has been in the vicinity of $50,000.

While the prices paid by Mr. Proctor and Mr. Hoyt and Miss Hoyt for their boxes are known only to the persons concerned, it may be said the figures involved in each are in excess of $100,000.

and in one instance, it is said, the price was nearly $120,000.

The desirability of parterre boxes increases as the valued locations are near the center of the famous crescent. Those obtained by Mr. Proctor and Mr. Hoyt and his sister are in those choice locations, No. 26 being between those owned by Robert W. Golet and J. Woodward Haven and G. G. Haven, and No. 33 having at right and left J. Pierpont Morgan and Mrs. Vanderbilt.

In more than thirty years that have elapsed since the reorganization of the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate company the stockholders rarely have permitted their parterre boxes to leave their families. There have been numerous transfers through death or for family convenience, but only five boxes have been permitted to leave original family influence.

One of the first was the sale of an interest in the box of the late Calvin S. Brice to Charles B. Alexander. Then James B. Haggin bought the Hober R.

SOME CROWD, HE WAS.

"Why, sir," dragged the actor, "one night when I played Hamlet it was half an hour before the audience could leave the theater."

"What was the matter?" queried the unbelieving cuss. "Was he lame?"

EACH HAD A HOBBY.

"If you didn't take so much interest in horses you would be better off," snapped Mrs. Growler. "You have had horses on your brain all your life."

"I suppose that is how I happened to marry a nag," retorted Mr. Growler.

TECUMSEH SOUGHT TO UNITE TRIBES

Controversy Over Indian's Death Recalls Visit to Oklahoma.

WHO KILLED CHIEF?

Oklahoma City, Oct. 27.—The renewal of the controversy as to who killed Tecumseh, the famous Indian war chief, recalls the fact that Tecumseh visited Oklahoma when he was trying to organize his vast confederation, embracing all of the Indian tribes of the Great Lakes, Mississippi Valley and Gulf Coast regions, with which he was endeavoring to check the onward rush of the whites and to prevent the establishment of any further white settlements in the middle west.

In Oklahoma in 1812.
It was in the spring of 1811 that Tecumseh came to the village of the Osage chief, Clamont, near the historic Claremore mound in Rogers county, Oklahoma. He was accompanied by his brother, "The Prophet." The latter is described as having been a man of commanding presence and an eloquent orator, yet so profound was the impression made upon the Osages by the words of Tecumseh that they scarcely noticed his brother, "The Prophet," at all.

Tecumseh was an impassioned orator and it was reported at the time that the natural sympathies of the Osages went out to him. However, all of their dealings had been with the French traders from St. Louis, by whom they had always been kindly treated. Those traders were all loyal Americans at that time, so that the weight of their influence was against Tecumseh and his ambitious designs. The Osages therefore declined to join Tecumseh.

Advocated the Referendum.
Tecumseh was probably the most remarkable Indian of whom history takes account. His twin brother, the prophet, whose name was Tensquatwa, claimed to have been inspired by a message from the Master of Life, in which all of the Indians were directed to band themselves together to resist the further advance of white settlements. Tecumseh not only believed and adopted his brother's teachings, but his own magnetic and persuasive eloquence gave to them an added force and influence.

Tecumseh always disputed the validity of the treaties by which the government had purchased the land of Ohio and Indiana from the Indians. He claimed that they were not binding upon the Indians for the reason that only the chiefs had entered into such agreements, this war-torn not being consulted at all, having thus advocated the doctrine of a practical referendum long before the white men of America ever dreamed of such a system.

The battle of Tippecanoe, which occurred about six months after Tecumseh's visit to the Osages, really spoiled all of his plans for a confederation of the Indian tribes. He continued to labor for that end until the outbreak of the war of 1812, when he espoused the cause of the British and was commissioned a brigadier general in the army of King George. His career ended with his death at the battle of the Thames, when he was still in the prime of life, being then about 45 years old.

Dispute Distinction of Killing Him.
Col. R. M. Johnson, of Louisville, Ky., has always been given the credit for killing Tecumseh, and was elected vice president of the United States in 1835 largely on the strength of that record, but the claim is now disputed by Dr. R. L. Spurr, of Lexington, Ky., who says that according to the story told by his uncle, Richard Spurr, a survivor of the famous battle, it was Col. William Whitley and not Col. Johnson who killed Tecumseh. The elder Spurr and Col. Whitley were members of a party of volunteers detailed to start the Indians out of the woods. In a hand-to-hand combat Whitley killed two Indians, being killed by the second one, who shot just as he did. Spurr later recovered Whitley's body and also took in the bodies of the two Indians he killed. The second one, he said, was identified by Gen. Harrison, who knew him well, as being that of Tecumseh.

Tecumseh's name is preserved in Oklahoma in the name of the county seat of Pottawatomie county, where a band of Shawnee Indians, led by Tecumseh's grandson, Wapamapto, better known in Oklahoma as Big Jim, lived many years.

CHILD MERMAID SMASHES ALL RECORDS BY SWIMMING ACROSS THE GOLDEN GATE—"EASY," SHE SAYS.

Walter Hartman, Eddie Hart and Carl Hackfield started with "Babe" Hartman and Hart gave out. Hackfield finished in 31 minutes and Mrs. Wright in 33 minutes, 12 seconds.

"It was easy," said Miss Wright. "The swim was not long enough. The terrible tide rips I have heard so much about didn't bother me. 'Chinese currents'—the cold streaks—gave most trouble. I used the single overhand stroke."

"Babe" Wright, the 12-year-old mermaid wonder, who broke all women's records for swimming the Golden Gate, and snapshot taken while she was performing the feat.

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—Joking and laughing all previous women's records, "Babe" Wright, a 12-year-old wonder, recently swam the Golden Gate. Mrs. Roy H. Wright, "Babe's" mother, declared Mrs. Wright, herself a celebrated swimmer.

"My daughter would have beaten me out had the distance been much longer," declared Mrs. Wright, herself a celebrated swimmer.

PROPER MATING GIVES HAPPINESS

Church Will Cover Wide Range in Its Course of Eugenics.

DISCUSS HEREDITY

New York, Oct. 27.—The Mount Morris Baptist church at 126th street, which claims the title of "most progressive church in America," will take the most advanced step in the history of American churches—the installation of a regular course in eugenics for young men and women.

Dr. J. Herman Randall, D. D., pastor of the church, who is now preaching a series of sermons inspired by Winston Churchill's novel, "The Inside of the Cup," is the prime mover, although the course is under the direct supervision of Dr. J. Gardner Smith, Bible school superintendent and director of lectures.

One class, for young men over 18, will be in charge of Dr. Frederick A. Wolf, B. S. A. M., of the College of the City of New York. The other, for girls of the same age, will be in charge of Miss Norma S. Gould, B. S., of the Women's Medical college.

A wide range of subjects will be covered.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one drugged disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that in Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ered during the course, which will extend over forty weeks. Some of the topics are: "Meaning of Eugenics," "Origin and Growth of Cell," "Annual Family," "Human Family," "Influence of Heredity and Environment," "Mendelism, of the Highest Development of the Species," "Cellular," "Social Evil," "Sex Prophylaxis," "General Diseases," "Training of Child," "Age of Adolescence," "Authority of State," "Business of Marriage," "Rearing of Family," "Making of Home," "Responsibility of Church."

"How many mothers and fathers know themselves, why certain things are as they are or why and how the male differs from the female?"

Dr. Smith asked: "How many parents train the child with development of character, strong bodies and broad minds as the goal?"

"There is not a happy family in one hundred; one in every ten would separate in two weeks if it could be done honorably, and one in every ten are actually seeking divorce in this country. They are mismatched. They were not taught the fundamental laws that govern humans."

"Marriage to them was a romance and the direct result of passion. The man misunderstands and does not know the nature of the woman, and vice versa. Each misjudges the other until open rupture occurs. Children are brought up in unhappy homes—not because either parent is bad, but because neither understands eugenics or human mating."

"In close contact with thousands of boys I have never known one to go wrong simply because he knew, but I have seen many grown men and women bemoan the fact that they were not instructed in their youth regarding the problems of sex. The clergy and laity and the good men of our churches have but a meager conception of the lives wrecked through ignorance of sex prophylaxis."

"If the church assumes to control marriage, if it forces people to live together whose lives are thereby blasted, it is the duty of the church to pilot the young through the most dangerous channels. The essentials of honesty, sincerity and love are the great principles of Christianity, but parents and the church have held aloof from teaching children the important elements of their own natures, how life came to be, and what it is to each individual."

MOST DANGEROUS OF MINOR AILMENTS.

Of the minor ailments a cold is by far the most dangerous, not in itself but the serious diseases it so often leads to. Pneumonia and consumption always start with a cold. When you have a cold you are much more likely to contract the infectious diseases such as diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. Colds are easily cured; in fact, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of this most common ailment, and is pleasant and safe to take. Why take such desperate chances when so reliable and trustworthy a medicine may be obtained for a quarter? For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

SAYS COAL CAUSES CANCER.

Eminent English Surgeon Urges Other Fuels to Prevent Disease.

London, Oct. 27.—The conclusion reached by Charles E. Green, of Edinburgh, that there is a distinct relationship between the occurrence of cancer and the kind of fuel used for domestic purposes was accepted as decisive by Sir William Bennett in his presidential address at the meeting of the Coal Smoke Abatement society.

Sir William said investigation had shown that the incidence of cancer was limited to those areas where coal was the staple fuel, while it was almost nonexistent where ordinary peat alone was used.

The only exception yet discovered to this rule, he declared, was in districts where the peat was a hard black substance which cracked like coal and was quite unlike the smoldering ordinary peat.

Sir William Bennett in conclusion spoke strongly in favor of a substitute for coal.

HUSBAND MAY FIB TO WIFE.

White Lies, as Marital Diplomacy, Approved by Ohio Judge.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 27.—A husband should use diplomacy with his wife, that is, when a trifling lie will preserve the domestic calm, he should tell it gravely and well.

This is the substance of a judicial opinion by Judge George L. Phillips, in the divorce action of John F. Grigolett, Mr. Grigolett went to lodge meetings and then told his wife, although she did not approve. Said Judge Phillips:

"If a wife objects to lodg meetings, why tell her about them? What she doesn't know won't hurt her." The judge refused the divorce.

JUST BEFORE THE GREAT LINER SAILS FROM NEW YORK.

ILLUSTRATED ESPECIALLY FOR THIS NEWSPAPER BY RAYMOND CRAWFORD EWER.

(By Norman.)

New York, Oct. 23.—The hour is close to midnight. The crowd that has poured out of the theaters is flowing through Times square into the restaurants and the subway entrances.

Taxis are snorting, cabmen are yelling, the sign-topped roofs are a flashing panorama.

Down along the North river it's different. The huge piers are deserted, save for a few drowsing watchmen. You can cross West street without the slightest danger of being run over by nine or ten trucks.

Here and there the bright gleam of a ferryboat's windows breaks the blackness of the Hudson's expanse. The lights on the Jersey shore twinkle across a silent and placid river.

It's quiet along the river.

And yet—

Where's that band playing?

Where are those people laughing? Something doing somewhere near here.

Let's follow this taxi which whirls down Fourteenth street and swings across West street to the pier entrance.

A man and woman get out, in evening attire. They enter the pier, go up in the elevator and walk down the pier floor to a gangway, up which they mount to the deck of a great ship.

The Mauretania is to sail at 1 o'clock.

She does this sometimes, instead of leaving at 9 a. m., the departing time of most of the big boats.

There is a great pile of steamer baskets near the head of the gangway. They'll be sorted out and delivered later. The recipients don't care for them now.

They're saying good-bye to friends at the tables, where busy waiters rush about; in quiet corners of the deck, where one may have a little privacy. Some are bidding farewell by letter, penning notes in the big writing room, which will be taken off by the pilot when he leaves the ship at Sandy Hook.

As the hour of sailing draws nearer, the throng grows larger and more hilarious. Corks pop merrily. There are quite a number of folks who aren't going, but who have come down to have a farewell supper with friends who are. In fact, you don't even have to be a friend of a passenger to buy a dinner in the Mauretania's restaurant. It's a perfectly good after-theater supper place—only a little out of the way.

Finally comes the "all ashore!" cry. Farewells are shouted down the gang-plank, gloved hands are waved. Then the big ship swings into the stream. The bright spot of laughter and light and music moves majestically down the river. The merry-makers line the port rail to look at the unequalled skyline of lower Manhattan.

The doors of the pier entrance rumble together, the watchman comes with his lantern, the river is quiet again.

TWO ARE HELD IN STABBING AFFAIR

Police Trying to Unravel Cutting Affray on Hayden Street.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

Alex Yegner, charged with assault with intent to kill, and John Poliah, charged with loitering, are held under $500 bond each to the city court in connection with the stabbing of John Susnoski following a Polish dance that was held Saturday night at 1123 Hayden street. The fight took place early Sunday morning on the street as the result, it is said, of a quarrel over a woman.

Susnoski is under the care of Dr. J. B. McEvoy at Hope hospital and while he is severely injured by two stabs in the back, one of which came near penetrating a kidney, he will probably recover. Yegner, who resides at 1181 Hayden street, was preparing to leave the city when he was arrested. Polish was picked up about 6 o'clock Sunday morning at the corner of Lewis and Calhoun streets by Officer Madden. The man was without a hat, his clothes were soaked with water and covered with burrs, indicating that he had been in hiding in the weeds in some of the outlots. The cases of both men were continued until November 6 to await the outcome of Susnoski's injuries. It is believed the man will recover, though his injuries are serious.

Susnoski resides at 1211 Hayden street and Polish resides on Wallace street.

Another Rolling Mills Affair.

Jim, John and Tom Derica are held under $200 bond to the city court for cutting up John Westa, aged 35, during a fight in the rolling mills district about 9 o'clock Sunday night. The affray took place on the street in front of one of the social clubs in the region and was the result of drink. It is said that five men attacked Westa, but two of them have not been apprehended. The police were called and hurried Westa to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was attended by Dr. A. H. Macbeth. The knife thrust went into Westa's back and cut the vertebral artery, causing a profuse loss of blood. The man will probably recover. It is stated that the two men who escaped are brothers of the three under arrest, who have furnished bond for their appearance Nov. 5. Sheriff A. C. Gladioux and Deputy Sheriff Courdevay went to Westfield and aided the police in investigating the affair. It has not yet been determined which of the five men concerned in the attack actually used the knife.

Given a Chance to Make Good.

George Pence, who has been making a specialty of committing suicide since an automobile accident in which an alleged sweetheart was killed, tried it again Saturday night, got arrested for drunkenness and was proved up as a forger and thief. He stole a certificate of deposit from Alice VanHorn, for whom he had worked, forged an endorsement and cashed the certificate with John Condon, the Calhoun street saloonist. Today in the city court Pence pleaded guilty to drunkenness, promised to reform and agreed to go to work for VanHorn and pay back what he had gotten by dishonesty.

Esterline Pays Big Fine.

Chester Esterline was fined $15 and costs on a charge of assault and battery, to which he pleaded guilty, and another assault charge and one for drunkenness was dismissed. Saturday night he made a vicious attack on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lerch, 1213 Walton avenue, who had been married but two days previously. They have been residing with Deputy Sheriff Herman Pranger, an uncle of the bride. Esterline struck both Mr. and

Mrs. Lerch and was later arrested by Deputy Pranger after a struggle.

Whole Family, Including the Dog.

The entire Sam Ross household on Wells street was engaged in a fight that got Ross and Clarence Bremerkamp arrested Saturday night. The trouble arose ostensibly over a coal bill, but in reality hinged on Bremerkamp's position of superiority in the Ross domicile.

Ross was down with Bremerkamp on top of him, Mrs. Ross mixing in the middle. Raster Ross belaboring his father's assailant with a broom and the Ross family dog taking a general and impartial part in the melee when the police arrived. Bremerkamp has been boarding in the Ross home and Ross says he was trying to eject his lodger when the trouble occurred. Judge Mungovan fined Bremerkamp $10 and costs and told him when he got out of jail to keep away from the Ross homestead.

Negro Thief Pleads Guilty.

Joe Smith, a negro, pleaded guilty to robbing Arthur Daniels, of Woodburn, of $2.50 and was sent to jail for a fine of $10 and costs with thirty days added. The two had been drinking in the Curry saloon on Lafayette street and when they got outside in an alley near by Smith touched Daniels. Curry, the proprietor of the saloon, had been watching Smith and notified the police of the theft. Daniels was turned loose after pleading guilty to a drunk charge.

Other City Court Cases.

Pat Ryan and his son, John Ryan, the first for drunkenness and the latter for vagrancy, were turned loose on their promise to get out of town. The elder man is blind and called at the police station for permission to peddle. He was drunk and ugly and was locked up. The pair are nuisances.

Mike Connell, who gets around on one leg and a pair of crutches, had more than he could manage when he took on a souce and fell and broke a crutch. He was arrested, but Judge Mungovan gave him a chance to leave the city.

Pat O'Brien was in again for drunkenness and pleaded hard for another chance, but Judge Mungovan sent him over for fifteen days. The aged offender will not stay at the poor house, where he belongs.

Upon his plea of beating a board bill Henry Klice was fined $10 and costs.

Martin Kane, a drunk, got eleven days, and William Jacobs, Robert Huff, Steve Hannan and Joe Courtney, drunks, were turned loose.

The case against Henry Berger, for neglecting his child, was continued indefinitely, it being shown that he is now making proper provision for his offspring.

Officers from Michigan City prison came today for Charles Angerer, who was paroled last week to the state school here and started in by stealing a ring from his roommate.

FARMER DEFIES THE DROUGHT.

Illinoisian Plants Corn Ten Inches Deep and Yields It Heavy.

Carmi, Ill., Oct. 27.—John Krimbell, a farmer living east of Carmi, is harvesting a 100-acre field of corn that was planted to withstand the drought and did.

Krimbell planted the kernels under ten inches of soil. Ordinarily corn is covered to a depth of four inches. Neighbors predicted the corn would not germinate, but a fairly good stand resulted. Krimbell also planted twenty acres in the same field, covering it four inches. The deep-planted corn is yielding sixty-five bushels of fine corn to the acre, while the shallow-planted is making less than thirty bushels.

Farmers from Indiana, Kentucky and Illinois have gone to the field to examine and verify Krimbell's claims.
